HOLIDAY MARATHON!

Our 24-hour holiday Facebook live stream. Years ago, on the last day of holiday shipping at Beekman 1802, we decided to keep a webcam rolling for 24 hours straight. Last year, over 100,000 neighbors tuned in to watch Team Beekman sing carols, visit with our artisans and real-life neighbors in Sharon Springs. We had plenty of giveaways and contests. We're crazy enough to have put this on our calendar again. After all, we can't break tradition. Interested in making an appearance on this year's live broadcast? "Those super-special gifts that meant that someone we loved really cared enough to think about what would please us most."

We have a Special Delivery for you, Neighbor!

We both remember the feeling of looking under our childhood Christmas trees and wondering which boxes contained the one or two presents that we were most hoping to unwrap. Those super-special gifts that meant that someone we loved really cared enough to think about what would please us most. (Or what we begged for loudest.) They meant that someone saved, scrimped and shopped to make our Christmas wishes come true.

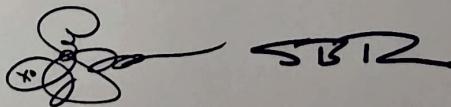

Then, somewhere along the way, times seemed to change. The quantity of gifts seemed to become more important than the quality of them. Gifting became more about "getting a lot" than "giving something special." Grabbing up generic gifts by the trunkful at the mall became the norm. So this year, at Beekman 1802, we want to bring back those "Special Deliveries." We want to encourage people to really think about what you want to give and receive. Our artisans have hand-crafted beautiful gifts with real stories and real craftsmanship. Our beauty gift boxes are filled with inspiration from our farm, not fragrances from the mall. We've even chosen some very fanciful, one-of-a-kind gift ideas to feature in this "Special Delivery" wish book. (Or at least put a smile on your face while sparking some fantasy daydreaming.)

But most importantly, we hope that when you give a gift from Beekman (or anywhere!) you take a moment to tell your loved one why you chose it especially for them, and how much they mean to you all year long.

Because it's the love and attention that can turn any gift – no matter the cost – into a truly Special Delivery.

Love,

Josh, Brent & Every Living Thing on Beekman 1802 Farm

NAUGHTY

A close-up photograph of a woman's face and upper torso. She has dark hair pulled back and is smiling broadly, showing her teeth. Her skin is a warm, golden-brown color. She is wearing a white, V-neck top. Her hands are clasped together in front of her, holding a single bar of soap. The soap is rectangular with a textured surface and some foam or bubbles on its top edge. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light blue.

why buy

ARTISAN?

BY JENNIFER TABER VANDERWERKEN

There are obvious reasons to support makers and the handmade, homemade fruits of their labor.

We all love a one-of-a-kind gem—something that catches your eye and stops your heart and you know you can't find in every big box store the world over. There's something special in the discovery of a true treasure, the personal connection to be made with its creator, and the story that object tells us about both the maker and the buyer.

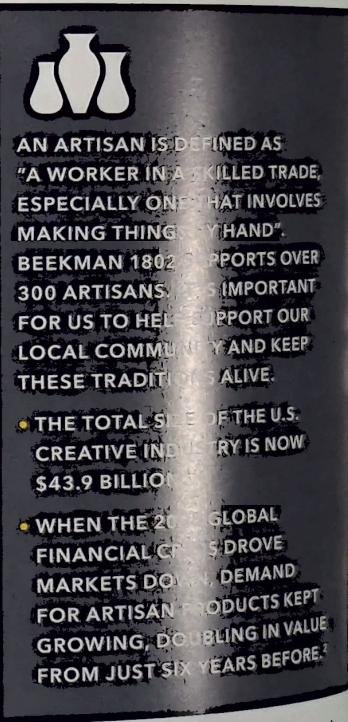

The pretty piece of pottery you picked up on your honeymoon can take you back to that time with just a glance, and becomes a beloved family object to be passed down through generations. The homemade small-batch jam you buy from your local farmer dresses up your Sunday breakfast and makes even a regular morning feel like a special occasion. That one perfect necklace bought from the artisanal jeweler completes your outfit for the wedding or party, and you can rest assured that no

I was fascinated by the amount of detail that you could obtain by just molding these real forms into ceramic vessels

- RITA, BEEKMAN 1802 ARTISAN

one else will show up wearing the same thing.

But there are even more impactful benefits to buying something handcrafted than we might imagine at first glance. Recent studies have shown that shifting just 10% of a communities' spending to local businesses would create hundreds of new jobs in that area, resulting in millions of dollars in wages in that community. And there are the undeniable ecological benefits: anything made by hand rather than mass produced by machinery has a smaller carbon footprint, and is therefore more sustainable.

When you buy an artisanal good, you are encouraging and enabling an artist to do what they love. You are making the decision to support a person, and by and large, an entire community. You are choosing to participate in a slowed-down, traditional way of doing things.

You are not just buying stuff. You are investing in something beautiful.

dreaming of a goat FARM

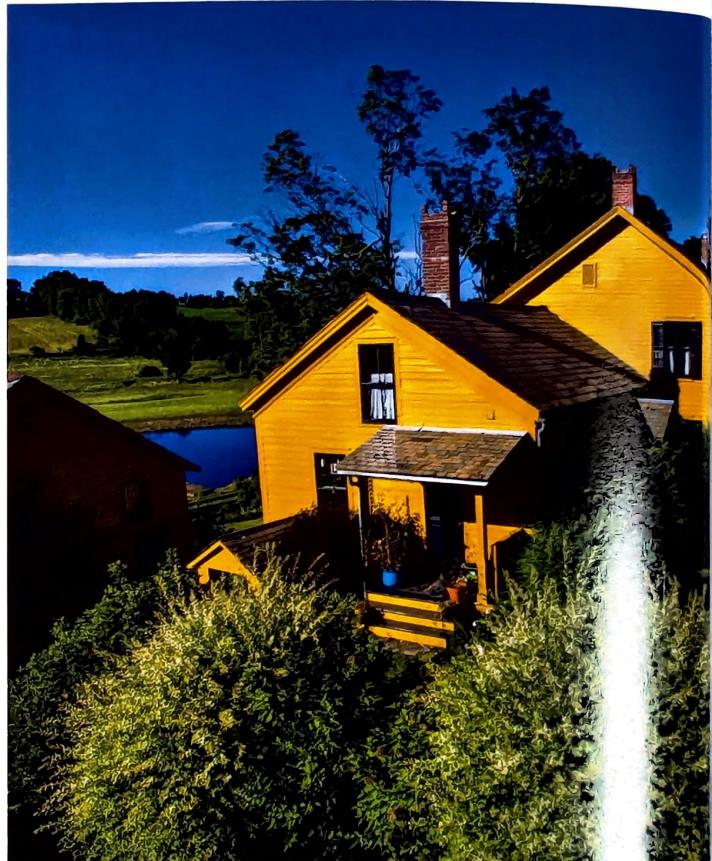

Beekman 1802 started with a mortgage, a neighbor named Farmer John, and 80 goats. Now we'll help you launch your own farm adventure with one of these incredible farm or ranch properties – from tiny, to traditional, to super luxury. Sign the deed on any one of these, and we'll provide one male and one female goat from Farmer John's award-winning herd so you can start building your own.

*The purchase of each listing must be made with the listing agent, not Beekman 1802. Kindly contact Beekman 1802 to coordinate goats once the listing has been sold to you. Please allow considerations for kidding season and transportation.

60 LB GIANT BAR SOAP

$1,500 SUDS*

In the early 1800s, shopping for soap involved cutting down slices from a large block in your local mercantile. Artisan Deb McGillycuddy made our first ever goat milk soap and of all Deb's incredible creations, this giant bar of soap (the equivalent of 108 regular 9 oz bars!) definitely takes the cake. We recommend aging the bar of soap in a cool dry place, and cutting down smaller bars using a cheese cutter, so that you can share this buttery moisture with friends and neighbors.

TRIP OF A LIFETIME

Beekman 1802 "Trip of a Lifetime" adventures are inspired by our own wanderlust and our desire to do more on vacations than just "see things." We wanted our trips to offer six things: Give, Grow, Treat, Taste, Master, Meander.
